

Acorn Woodpecker Toy

www.elkhornslough.org/funandgames

Male and female acorn woodpeckers look different from each other.
How are they different?

You will need: Scissors, a straw (thin straws work best), a rubberband, and glue.

To assemble: Print out this sheet, heavyweight paper works best. Fold along the blue line, then cut out. Glue sides together with the straw at the fold seam. Trim the straw to the length of the paper. Let dry. Make a cut in the rubberband and thread it through the straw. Grasp each end of the rubberband and stretch it vertically to see your woodpecker hammer his acorn into the tree as it falls. Go to www.elkhornslough.org/funandgames to see this toy in action.
